

Appendix

I. GAME VARIANTS

7. Player's Choice: Players pick an Alien of their choice rather than drawing at random or draw five Aliens at random and keep one.

8. Hidden Powers: Players pick their Aliens randomly but keep them hidden until they choose to exercise their Power. At that time the Power card is revealed and set up in the normal manner.

9. Multiple Powers: Each player draws more than one Alien and thus has a combination of "Multiple" Power. Players are advised that this variation can lead to conflicts not covered in the rules! House rules must then prevail.

Settling Problems: To solve "don't use with" conflicts in a Hidden Power Game, the first Power revealed has precedence, and any which conflict with that and are still hidden must be replaced.

A "Cosmic Zap" in a Multiple Power Game will work against all Powers of one player which are used at the same time.

The Plant and the Insect in a Multiple Power Game may copy only one Power of another player.

10. Adding a 7th and 8th Player: For a seven player game, deal six Flares and then add a Compromise card, shuffle and deal. For an eight player game do the same and also add the title card of the Flare deck. If you get one you are:

The ZILCH: (Compromise Card) You have the Power to kibitz. You get no hex, tokens, cards, etc. Put the Compromise card back in the deck and write down somewhere the player you think will win. If at the end of the game that player is a winner, you join him or her (and any others) in the win. (For higher stakes, at the start of the game you may also write down how many other players will join your predicted winner in the win. If you are wrong, you have lost, but if you are exactly right, you win alone.) To help you mold the outcome you may look at anything in the game at any time—hands, the deck, hidden Powers, secret writings, etc. You may tell anyone anything you like, publicly or privately, including lies. And you are not affected by any Power or card except the "Cosmic Zap."

The SHARK: (Title Card) You have the power of hunger. You must sit out the game for one challenge, after which you may give the title card to any of the six players who is not currently a main player and take over that player's position in the game—hand, Power, etc. That player must now sit out one challenge and then may "cut-in" on a player as you did.

II. TOURNAMENT RULES

The official Cosmic Encounter Rules are designed to allow tournament play within a relatively defined time frame. A point system is used to end the first and second round games in 50 minutes, preventing them from being prolonged as players struggle for solo victories.

ROUND 1

Divide players into four player games. This round will have two games. Each game will last for 50 minutes.

The first game in this round will use the basic Cosmic Encounter set only. At the end of 50 minutes, end all games, distribute the game points, have the players switch around so that they are in new groups and begin the second game. All players advance to the second game. The second game will add in Expansion Set one, two and three. End the game after 50 minutes and total each player's points from game one and game two.

ADVANCEMENT TO ROUND 2

To advance to round 2 a player must score high enough to make the cut off. Scores are totaled from game one and game two. The cut off is figured by taking the top scoring players in multiples of four until you have about half of the original players.

ROUND 2

There will be one game in round two. Divide the players into four player games. The game will last for 50 minutes. Add in Expansion Sets four, six, seven and eight. Victory points are figured by the same system, but players do not carry their round one points over into this round. All players are starting from zero points.

ADVANCEMENT TO FINALS

The top six players, based on the points earned in round two only, advance to the finals.

FINALS

One game, no time limit. Add Expansion Sets five and nine. No points are used, the regular winner(s) are the champions.

VICTORY POINT SYSTEM

The victory point system is used in round one and round two. At the end of 50 minutes each player gets:

- 1 point for every home planet base (5 possible)
- 2 points for every foreign planet base (10 possible)
- 6 points in the pot divided among the winners.

Example: A player who won alone, and who still had all home bases would have 21 points (5 for home bases + 10 for foreign bases + 6 from the pot).

RANKING THE FINALISTS

After the winner(s) are determined, the other finalists can be ranked by adding the total points earned in Round 1 and Round 2 for each player. The player with the high total is ranked second, the next high third and so on.

OPTIONAL PLAYOFF

If there is a multiple player win the finals, players may elect to play off. In this case the winners start a new game. The winners of that game again start a new game until there is only one winner. This process continues even if a two player game is necessary.

EXCLUSIONS

The following Aliens are not used during Round 1 or Round 2: Filth, Schizoid, Terrorist. In the finals however, there are no exclusions (except as defined by statements on the power cards, hexes etc. "Do not use with the ...").

 85. MOON BOON (S) When you reveal this moon, take it to any of your bases and use it as a token worth 5 towards the total in challenges. Once revealed, you do not "occupy the moon" and it can no longer be challenged.
 86. ROGUE MOON (S) When you reveal this moon you use it as the cone to immediately challenge another player on a base anywhere while another challenge is taking place. No alliances are allowed in the rogue moon challenge. Once this "challenge-within-a-challenge" begins, it must be completed before play of the original challenge resumes. Discard after use.
 87. MOON WRAITH (C) While this moon is occupied it will move clockwise around the hexes and send certain tokens to the Warp. The next time an attack card is played in a challenge, once the challenge is over, total the number(s) on the attack card(s) played and move this moon that many planets clockwise around the hexes starting with the central planet in this system. All tokens on the planet where it stops are sent to the Warp. On subsequent card challenges continue this movement from that planet. When this moon is vacated it becomes an extra moon in the system where it is abandoned. This moon can not be challenged while on a planet.
 88. DECOY (S) Reveal this moon only after it has just been attacked successfully by another player. The offensive player loses to the Warp the tokens that he had in the cone and an equal number of others. Your tokens here return to bases. Discard after use.

 94. PURITY (S) When you reveal this moon, remove all moons, Flares, and Expansion Set power from the game before the next challenge (tokens on moons return to bases and powers are drawn at random from the basic set to replace those removed).
 95. BLUE MOON (C) While this moon is occupied each player may make no comment or gesture about a player's past game performance or future game potential except to disparage his own and to admire that of another. The penalty for a forbidden expression is the loss of the player's next turn.
